

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ILLINOIS STATE LIBRARY.

Herewith is submitted the report of the Illinois State Library for the biennial period October 1, 1912, to September 30, 1914:

The total number of bound volumes added to the accession record was 3,725, and there were at least twice that number of pamphlets and unbound volumes. Four hundred thirty-five volumes (bound periodicals and old volumes rebound) have been returned from the bindery, while 155 volumes are still in the binder's hands. Three hundred sixty volumes of Supreme and Appellate Court Reports were, upon their arrival, transferred to the Law Library in the Supreme Court Building. Fully two-thirds of the accessions of the library were acquired from the United States Government as additions to the depository set, or through exchange with state and municipal governments. As can readily be understood, the exchange department and its work are of vital importance to the continued growth of the library and its usefulness in promotion of the work of legislators. No other material takes the place of the statutes and the legislative journals, together with the reports and bulletins published by the various departments and commissions of other states. These we receive by exchange, and our complete files are dependent upon the regularity of complete shipments of Illinois documents to other states.

An effort has been made during the past year to complete the file of Illinois documents in this library by sending to each department or commission of the State a list of its publications found on our shelves, with the request that the file be completed if possible. Two copies of each of these publications are desired—one for reference and the other for loan purposes. As soon as possible, we hope to complete our files of documents of other states by sending list of missing numbers with list of duplicates which might be offered in exchange.

Proceedings of numerous national and state associations are secured through the membership of the library. Current periodicals to the number of 160, and 15 daily newspapers are on file. The material purchased has been mainly along the line of general reference and sociological works.

The work of recataloging and reclassification according to the Dewey Decimal Classification System was begun February 1, 1913, but has not progressed rapidly on account of changes and vacancies on the staff, and lack of appropriation for extra help, clerks, and stenographers. Since June 15, 1914, at which time the vacancies on the library staff were filled by civil service appointment, all the United States publications, excepting the Government set, numbering about 11,000 books and pamphlets, have been reclassified and rearranged and shelf-listed. Six thousand seven hundred seventy-seven volumes of State documents have been shelf-listed and 5,509 volumes classified. Six thousand three hundred ninety-five volumes of the general collection have been classified and catalogued. Five thousand five hundred forty-eight shelf-list cards and 5,524 catalogue cards have been made and filed. The three dictionary catalogues—General, State, and United States documents—have been consolidated and we find this arrangement in one alphabet very much more convenient for our use than in three.

The appropriation for shelving, furniture and library tools made by the last Legislature was expended for 16 sections of steel wall stacks for the reading and reference room, 9 sections of steel wall stacks and 15 sections of floor stacks for the space formerly occupied by the reference room and office, two large oak magazine racks and two 60-tray catalogue cases. More shelving is needed for books on hand as well as for the increase of the next two years. A new reference and loan desk is another urgent need on account of the steadily growing circulation and increased use of reference material. Vertical files for increased correspondence are greatly needed as a result of our inter-library and special loans, and the suggestion of the reference section of the Illinois Library Association to make this a clearing house (for the State) for club programs and bibliographies.

Since the parcels post rates have been extended to cover books and printed matter, this letter was sent out as an announcement to the citizens of Illinois:

"The Library will be glad to arrange with libraries in other towns or cities, or with schools or other institutions in places where there is no public library, for inter-library loans. Requests for such loans must in all cases come from the institution, not from the individual, and the asking institution is held responsible for the safety of the volume and for the cost of transportation. Persons who desire books for study should, therefore, make arrangements with their local libraries or schools to request and secure them. In places where there is no institution able or willing to do this service, this library lends, at cost of transportation, to study clubs or students who are able to furnish proper security. Study club programs or bibliographies will be gladly received and kept on file for reference."

The reference and loan work of the library has increased greatly, and will continue to increase because of this service. Schools and small colleges of the State ask for debate material and bibliographic aid which smaller libraries can not afford.

The publication of a State Library quarterly bulletin would be very helpful. By such means we could bring to the attention of legislators, libraries, and citizens of the State, lists of new books purchased as well as lists of periodicals received, and other library notes of interest.

EVA MAY FOWLER,
Assistant Librarian.
